Reviews, Essays and Articles

Something about Paint by Carissa Farrell, Curator, in the Irish Arts Review, Winter 2013.

'Carroll Deeley's work is palatable, beautiful, gentle, still and contemplative. Her still-life assortments sometimes hover and float and are painted so tentatively that there is a suggestion that something else is preoccupying the artist.'

(Three Degrees of Painting, Solstice Arts Centre, Navan, 7th November – 6th December 2013.)

Graduating with Sophistication by Aidan Dunne, Art Critic, in the Irish Times, Wednesday 18th June, 2008:

'Working with paint, Judy Carroll Deeley (NCAD) looked at our desire to make ideal interiors in architectonic compositions realised with great flair for pattern and a bold, very sure sense of colour'.

(Degree Show, National College of Art and Design, June 2008)

At the opening of the Three Degrees of Painting show:

'Tender, compelling and enduring' - Aidan Dunne, Art Critic
